

Networking in the Field

There are many people in the community who have chosen careers in Human Services. The first step is getting to know those people and getting an insight into the field of Human Services. They can often provide advice, job shadowing experiences, and chances for internships (with or without pay). In the space below, complete the following information about people in your area with Human Services careers.

1. Name of person/organization _____
Address and phone number _____
Preferred hours of operation _____
Website address _____
Description of career _____

2. Name of person/organization _____
Address and phone number _____
Preferred hours of operation _____
Website address _____
Description of career _____

3. Name of person/organization _____
Address and phone number _____
Preferred hours of operation _____
Website address _____
Description of career _____

4. After conducting a research of three career options in Human Services, which one would you be interested in pursuing and list two reasons for your choice? _____

